TALK WITH CAPTAIN LEARY ABOUT CONDITIONS AT GUAM.

Immense Cost and Difficulties in the Way of Laying a Cable —Time Necessary for the Work.

[From the Tacoma Ledger.]

Percy R. Adams of Boston passed through Tacoma yesterday on his way home after practically completing a circuit of the globe. Mr. Adams has traveled extensively, visiting the remote sections of the world, but until his recent trip to the Orient he had never been in the Philippine Islands.

While at Manila Mr. Adams met Captain Richard Leary, who has been governor of Guam, but is now on his way to the United States. Captain Leary was returning by way of Manila. His government of Guam has placed that island on an American footing. So far as a rigid enforcement of all sanitary laws could, he has stamped out disease and made the island much more habitable for Americans and even the natives themselves.

"Guam is far from being healthful," Captain Leary told me. There has been a continuous epidemic of grip, typhoid fever and dysentery. Over half of the command have had typhoid fever, and nine out of ten of the cases have been traced to drinking lemonades and other non-toxicants made by using natural water from pools and springs. These waters are full of disease germs. There are wells in Guam that have not been cleaned in centuries. Many of the command have died, including several officers. Captain Leary has impressed many of the natives with the value of distilled water, and the health of the community is ameliorated.

"One of the most distressing things the foreigners on the island have to contend with is to watch the smoke of a vessel for two or three days without having her visit the port. Letters written by Mrs. Leary in January last were not received until July 6th.

What is Needed Most.

"What Guam needs, Captain Leary claims, is a cable and better mail connection with the outside world. Plans for a Pacific cable have been submitted by different people at different times. It will necessarily be two years before a cable can be made, and then more time will be added in laying the line. The cable will probably be constructed under the supervision of the navy department. The chief of the bureau of equipment estimates the cost of laying and equipping the proposed cable at $10,000,000.

"The government will have many difficulties. There will be the great cost, while the extreme depth of water is known to exist in certain parts of the Pacific and is much feared in others. There are tremendously long distances between landing points. For instance from San Francisco to Hawaii is 2,100 miles; from Hawaii to Midway Island is 1,100, or to Marshall Islands 1,900; from Midway Island to Guam is 2,280 miles, and from Guam to Manila there lies a distance of 1,372 miles. Then intermediate points have no active trade.

"There has been an estimate submitted by a New York cable company placing the cost of a cable to Japan, Australia and the Philippines, via Hawaii, at $12,000,000, and the cost of maintenance, including two repair shops and operating expenses, at $300,000 a year. This is only $2,000,000 more than the estimated expense to Manila.

Three Years' Time Needed.

"The total time which would be required to establish a complete line of cable across the Pacific ocean is generally estimated at about three years, but it need not take quite so long as this. The average rate at which cable is manufactured in the principal large factories in England is about twenty nautical miles per day. The total amount of cable that would be required for a single line across the Pacific is about 8,000 miles, so that the making of a cable would occupy a factory continuously for about sixteen months. On some occasions cable making has been carried on at a considerably higher rate than twenty miles per day. A record piece of cable making was 1,027 miles made in twenty-seven working days, or at an average rate of thirty-eight miles per day. On this occasion the maximum length made in any one day was fifty-two miles.

"The detailed survey would naturally be made during the manufacture of the cable in sections as portions of the cable were finished. One important reason for the work taking a long time is the great distance of the scene of operations from the point where deep sea cables are made. Cable ships have not the speed of trans-Atlantic liners, and the cable would have to be carried a voyage of about three months from the point of manufacture before any work could be begun."

Today's Band Concert.

Captain Berger has arranged an exceptionally good program for the band concert at the capitol grounds this afternoon. It should attract a large crowd.

A Great Medicine.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and find it to be a great medicine," says Mr. E. S. Phipps of Poteau, Ark. "It cured me of bloody flux. I cannot speak too highly of it." This remedy always wins the good opinion, if not praise, of those who use it. The quick cures which it effects even in the most severe cases make it a favorite everywhere. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., general agents, Territory of Hawaii.
